1. Call to Order/Roll Call.

Mayor Walizer called the meeting to order at 6:30 p.m. Council members present were Mayor Russell Walizer, Mayor Protem Kelly Yarbrough, Jason Blaneck, Carla Pendergraft and Adam Montemayor. Emily McKenzie arrived at 6:37 p.m.

City Staff present Monica Hendrix, Kyler Jones, Linda Klump, Kevin Neal and Peter Rivas.

2. Pledge of Allegiance.

Mayor Walizer led the Pledge of Allegiance.

3. Citizens questions or comments.

At this time any person with business before the Council not scheduled on the agenda may speak to the Council. Comments are limited to three (3) minutes, and this time is not transferable. Under the Texas Open Meetings Act, the Council is prohibited from discussing, responding, or acting on any comments or items that have not been properly posted on the agenda. This forum is limited to a total of 30 minutes.

Gary Cox, 100 Walter Street, spoke and reminded council of their sole purpose is to serve the citizens of Lorena first and to promote the healthy, safety, morals, and general welfare to the citizens of Lorena. To create and maintain conditions under which their environment can exist in enjoyable harmony to ensure that all new developments are in agreement with the comprehensive plan. Cox went on to say that four of the five council members completely disregarded the planning and zoning commission and passed a conditional use permit to allow a huge travel center, a.k.a. truck stop that never closes and never stops right next to Lorena's original 140-year-old neighborhood like it never existed. Cox says these four individuals, three which are here, expose the quarter of the citizens of Lorena to known carcinogens, crime, environmental issues, traffic nightmares, light pollution, and noise pollution that never stops, 24-7. Cox thanked the council members and said he really appreciates it.

Lindsay Montemayor, 809 Evelyn Drive, spoke and wanted to address a recent social media post attacking this council, the Chief of Police, along with her and her husband's personal business. Claims about shady deals, backroom favors and city money being misused are false. Her company, Crystal Clear Pools, has been here for three generations and has been in business for 24 years, and has served many members of the community. They follow the same process, same pricing, same contract for every customer. They do not get favors from the city, and the city does not get favors from them, and to suggest otherwise is nothing but slander. Montemayor also mentioned comments on social media about the council being a fraternity, the mayor's reputation and council members being unprepared for meetings. Montemayor says that the council are all volunteers who spend countless hours preparing, reading, and making decisions for the good of this town. Montemayor stressed those posting on online forums to show up to the meetings and ask questions and to stop spreading lies. Montemayor says the town is tired of the drama and deserves better. Montemayor also says that "respect isn't lost when you tell the truth, it is lost when you hide behind a keyboard".

Pat Kultgen, 115 Brandy Hill, spoke and stated that she is working on her third paper for her second dissertation and as a part of that has been reading contracts. She requested a copy of the WMARSS wastewater 700-page contract from the City of Waco dated August 2019. Kultgen is concerned about everything the City of Lorena gave to the City of Waco in exchange for sewer services that will still cost the city over twenty million dollars over the next 20 years to Waco to take the sewer. Kultgen gave a list of the things the city gave to Waco including building, easements, equipment, pipes, permits, and conveyed everything to them for exchange of two things: the ability to tap into the City of Waco's wastewater treatment plant for more money, and a pro-rated percentage of the return flows. Kultgen says Waco did not give Lorena anything.
